Subject: RE: Sundyne Supplemental Production

John,

For the reasons we previously outlined, we believe that Sundyne has supplemented its production consistent with Judge Shah's ruling on our motion for summary judgment, and do not believe that the breach of the nondisclosure agreement entitles PeopleFlo to any additional documents beyond records of sales of CSA pumps that incorporate the purported combination trade secret.

Please let me know if you would like to schedule a call to discuss this further.

Regards,

Chris

John,

I am still waiting to hear from my client on whether Sundyne is amenable to producing sales information for all CSA pumps. In the meantime, I can report that no additional sales of any kind have been made of CSA pumps that incorporate the “Bearings Technology Combination Trade Secret” as that was described in the Court’s ruling on summary judgment. The supplemental production made on 6/10/2024, SUN-PF54913-23, are the latest production related to those sales.

I hope to have an answer to the question of providing all CSA sales data by tomorrow evening.

Chris
